

AGENDA

January 18, 2019

2:00PM –
3:00PM

Holistic Admissions: Why It Matters and How Programs Are Addressing It Now

Steven W. Matson, Ph.D., Dean, The Graduate School, UNC-CH
Julie Shurts, Associate Director, Global Client Relations, Educations Testing Service, UNC-CH

The best applicants are those with the whole package — the ideal combination of skills, attributes and experiences that will help you achieve your program goals and maximize student success. But is your admissions process set up to consider all of the skills, attributes and experiences that each applicant offers, or does it over-rely on a few key factors? Learn about promising practices for implementing a holistic admissions system, curated from 71 interviews with deans and faculty in graduate schools and programs nationwide.

February 1, 2019

2:00PM –
3:00PM

Personal and Professional Development for Graduate Students – Best practices

Vanessa Doriott Anderson, NCSU
Laura Padgett, Director of Enrolled Student Services, ASU
Stephanie Hickey, Assistant Director of Enrolled Student Services, ASU
WCU
Kathleen T. Cox, Associate Dean for Graduate Studies, ECU

February 15, 2019

2:00PM –
3:00PM

Marketing

Natalie E. Hampton, Director of Marketing and Communications, NCSU

March 1, 2019

2:00PM –
3:00PM

Enrollment Management Dashboards

Paul Gemperline, Dean, The Graduate School, ECU

March 15, 2019

2:00PM –
3:00PM

Graduate Admission – Best practices, comparison or experiences with different vendors

Victoria Carlberg, Associate Director of Graduate Admissions and Recruiting, ASU
WCU

March 29, 2019

2:00PM –
3:00PM

Residency - How is this working for your campus? Impacts?

Paul Gemperline, Dean, The Graduate School, ECU

April 12, 2019

2:00PM –
3:00PM

Engaging Graduate Student Organizations – Best practices and examples

April Perry, WCU

April 26, 2019

2:00PM –
3:00PM

Fundraising

WCU

May 10, 2019

2:00PM –
3:00PM

Graduate Assistantships

Alexis Morris, Business Officer, The Graduate School, ECU

Lynn Couturier, Admin Support Specialist, The Graduate School, ECU